

Could

Could you cook a meal for twenty people?

Could you live a big city one day?

Do you think you could be the chief executive of a large company?

Could you give a speech in front of a hundred people?

Do you think you could learn another new language?

Do you think you could tell the whole truth all the time?

Could you run for five miles without stopping?

Do you think you could write a novel?

Could you hold your breath for a minute?

Could you tell a lie if you really needed to?

Could you do a parachute jump?

Could you find your way home from here with your eyes closed?
