

Did you enjoy science lessons at school?

Which science do you think is the most important?

Is science relevant to our everyday lives?

What major scientific breakthroughs have there been in the last 50 years?

Who is the greatest living scientist in the world?

What would you say is the purpose of science?

What do you understand by the scientific method?

Are there any questions which science cannot answer?

According to science, a human being is just a material object. Do you agree?

Would you be happy to donate your body to medical science?

Which of the sciences interests you most?

Would you like to work as a scientific researcher?

What are the greatest scientific achievements in history?

Who is the greatest scientist in your country's history?

What is there left to discover?

Who were the first human beings to do science?

Is science capable of providing us with absolute truth?

Can science and religion live alongside each other?

Can science be dangerous?

Do you enjoy science-fiction novels and movies?